H.S.R. 47

R E S O L U T I O N

WHEREAS, The Honorable Jack Ogg, representing District 22, Place 10, in the House of Representatives, was named "Outstanding Young Man of Houston for 1968" by the Houston Junior Chamber of Commerce, this being the highest honor which the Houston Jaycees can bestow; and

WHEREAS, The award is given each year on the basis of outstanding achievements professionally and in the field of civic work; the recipient must be a leader--the right type of leader--giving freely of his time and efforts to the betterment of his community; he must be a man who can shoulder responsibility effectively; he must be an advocate of honest, upright government; he must be cooperative and understanding, and capable of admitting when he is wrong; he must be of Jaycee age, but not necessarily a Jaycee; and

WHEREAS, The "Outstanding Young Man of Houston for 1968" award makes Jack eligible to become a nominee for the five outstanding Young Texans programs held by the Texas Jaycees later in the year; and

WHEREAS, Jack received his public school education in Baytown, graduating from Robert E. Lee High School, where he was a member of the annual staff; he was sports editor for the high school paper, and a member of the National Honor Society; a debater and declaimer, he won district honors his junior year, the district and regional championships his senior year, and was fourth place winner at the state tournament. Also in his senior year he won a statewide journalism award for the most humorous high school sports story; and

WHEREAS, Jack entered the University of Houston as a radio, television, and public relations major; during his freshman year he was elected vice president of his class; he was a member of the Student Assembly, Secretary-Treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity pledge class, and won the scholastic award in his pledge class; he actively participated in the University of Houston Radio Department, where he had his own daily sports show. Because of his high scholastic average, Jack was made a member of Phi Theta Kappa Scholastic Fraternity; he played baseball on the freshman baseball team; and

WHEREAS, His last three years at the University of Houston were just as active and equally rewarding; in his senior year he was elected president of his social fraternity, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, and member of the Student Senate; he was a contributing editor of the Cougar Annual Staff and a reporter on the Daily Cougar Newspaper; he had his own television sports show on Channel 8 and was chosen one of the University of Houston's Top Ten Outstanding Students; he was selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He received his B.S. degree in Radio, Television, and Public Relations from the University of Houston in 1957; and

1 WHEREAS, Later, he decided to take up the study of law, and 2 entered South Texas College of Law in Houston, where he received 3 his law degree in 1962; he made the third highest grade in the 4 state on the Bar examination; he went into the private practice of 5 law, and immediately began an active participation in community
6 civic work. Some of his affiliations are: Houston Junior Chamber 7 of Commerce; Houston Junior Bar Association and the Houston and 8 Texas Bar Associations; Westbury Civic Club; the University of 9 Houston Alumni Association; South Texas College of Law Alumni
